D. Codes of Student Conduct (Academic and Non-Academic Misconduct)

Preamble

The Mission Statement of St. Thomas University describes our community in this way:

We are a university primarily concerned with people, ideas, and values. We are an institution with a social conscience. We are united in the belief that women and men of divergent backgrounds and abilities should have an opportunity to learn and practice critical thought and to realize their intellectual potential in an academic setting that is both responsive and stimulating. We strive to preserve the tradition of academic freedom. We seek to provide a learning and working atmosphere that is free of discrimination, injustice, and violence, and that is responsive, understanding, open, and fair.

In order to make these ideals effective, all members of this community have responsibilities as well as freedoms. For example, the Statement of Mutual Expectations of Instructors and Students in the Academic Calendar sets out the commitments and responsibilities of students and instructors required to create a strong academic culture. The following Codes of Conduct seek to support our mission statement by clearly setting forth our expectations for the responsible conduct of students both academically and socially.

The purpose of the Codes is to express community standards of honesty, respect for persons and property, and responsible use of freedom. The Codes reflects the University's mission and identity, and it exists to guide conduct, safeguarding and promoting the University's educational activity. Each student is responsible for reading and reviewing the Codes of Student Conduct, and for understanding the responsibilities the student assumed by enrolling in the University.

St. Thomas University students are held responsible for their conduct at all times. Any student who engages in academic or non-academic misconduct shall be subject to disciplinary action by appropriate officers of the University.

The University, in accordance with the procedures outlined in the following policies reserves the right to withdraw from any student the privilege of attending St. Thomas University. Neither the University, nor any of its members, shall be under any liability whatsoever for such exclusion.

The following considerations constitute the foundation of the University's justification for establishing expectations of student conduct, codifying those expectations, and adopting equitable processes for assessing student conduct.

1. The University's mission establishes its identity as an independent academic community with a distinctive history and culture.
2. The University's standards of conduct and the procedures for determining responsibility for academic and non-academic misconduct reflect its particular mission and history. These standards and procedures do not attempt to duplicate civil and criminal legal processes, nor do they attempt to substitute for them. As an institution structured to accomplish its stated educational mission, the University has an independent interest in upholding standards of academic and non-academic conduct, and these expectations may differ from those found in society at large. The University is committed to the fundamental principles of natural justice in its student conduct procedures.
3. By registering at St. Thomas University, students voluntarily enter an educational and residential community with standards of academic honesty and respect for persons and property. In choosing to enroll in the University, each student becomes responsible in their conduct to those standards as stated in the Student Codes of Conduct.

The University may address student academic and non-academic misconduct through its own processes and apply sanctions governing the terms of membership in the University. The University reserves the right to deal with misconduct, whether or not law enforcement agencies are involved and whether or not criminal charges may be pending.

SECTION I - ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Intellectual honesty is fundamental to scholarship. Academic dishonesty, in whatever form, diminishes the integrity of education at the University. Accordingly, the University views plagiarism or cheating of any kind in academic work as among the most serious offenses that a student can commit. Such conduct is subject to disciplinary action.

1. Plagiarism

The following Statement of Policy on Plagiarism appears in Section Five E of the University Calendar: Plagiarism is "to use another person's ideas or expressions in your writing without acknowledging the source" (The Modern Language Association Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, J. Gibaldi, 1999, p. 30).

Some examples of plagiarism are:

1. Presenting another person's ideas, words, or other intellectual property, including material found on the Internet, as one's own.
2. Writing an essay, report or assignment, or a portion thereof, for someone else to submit as their own work.
3. Submitting an essay, report, or assignment when a major portion has been previously submitted or is being submitted for another course at St. Thomas or any other university without the express permission of both instructors.

A student who is in doubt as to what constitutes plagiarism should discuss the matter with the professor concerned before submitting the assignment.

2. Cheating

During an examination, test, or any other written assignment used to judge student performance, the following actions are examples of cheating:

1. The use of unauthorized material such as books, notes, or electronic devices.
2. Obtaining by improper means examinations, tests, or similar materials.
3. Using or distributing to others examinations, tests, or similar materials obtained by improper means.
4. Discussing with another student tests or examination questions that have been obtained by improper means.
5. Either writing a test or examination for another student or having another student write a test or examination.
6. Either using answers provided by another student or providing answers to another student.
7. Copying answers from another student during examinations or tests.

Procedures in Cases of Cheating or Plagiarism

1. As soon as a professor believes that academic misconduct has occurred, the professor will contact the student via email, with a copy to the Registrar's Office. In the email, the professor will:

- state the problem;
- ask for a meeting with the student;
- specify that a response is required within 7 days;
- state that if the student has not replied within 7 days, then an admission of guilt will be presumed and a penalty will be imposed.

Note: The professor will keep a copy of the email, and the Registrar's Office will place a copy in the student's academic file.

2. At the meeting between the professor and the student, the professor will:
 - present the evidence of misconduct, and the student may respond;
 - ask the student to complete and sign the Student Statement on Academic Misconduct form, which is available on the STU website at http://w3.stu.ca/stu/administrative/vp_academic/academic_misconduct.pdf (Administrative Offices → Vice-President Academic & Research → Policies → Academic Misconduct; scroll to Appendix B).
3. Within 7 days after meeting with the student, the professor will:
 - discuss the matter with the Department Chair, and they will decide on a course based penalty (up to and including a failing grade in the course);
 - submit evidence of academic misconduct to the Department Chair;
 - submit the completed Student Statement on Academic Misconduct form to the Department Chair.
4. Within 7 days of meeting with the professor, the Department Chair will:
 - inform the student in writing of the decision (regarding guilt or innocence) and penalty, and also of the right to appeal the decision (and/or penalty) to the Senate Student Academic Grievance Committee;
 - indicate in the letter to the student that appeals must be initiated within 2 months from the date the letter was sent;
 - submit a copy of the letter to the Registrar's office for inclusion in the student's academic file;
 - submit a copy of the completed Student Statement on Academic Misconduct form to the Registrar's office for inclusion in the student's academic file;
 - submit copies of all evidence of academic misconduct for inclusion in the student's academic file;

- contact the Registrar's office to ascertain whether a previous offense has occurred.
5. If a previous instance of academic misconduct has occurred, then:
 - the Department Chair will notify the Vice-President (Academic & Research) in writing;
 - the Vice-President (Academic & Research) may impose a University-based sanction up to and including expulsion, which would be in addition to the penalty imposed by the professor and Department Chair;
 - the Vice-President (Academic & Research) will notify the student in writing, with a copy of the letter sent to the Registrar's office for inclusion in the student's academic file.
 6. If a student submits an appeal, the Senate Student Academic Grievance Committee shall:
 - solicit and consider relevant material from the student, the Department Chair, the Professor, the Registrar's office, and other material as deemed necessary;
 - reach a decision concerning the appeal of the decision or the penalty imposed;
 - communicate its decision in writing to the Vice-President (Academic & Research), Department Chair, the professor, the student, and the Registrar's office for inclusion in the student's academic file.

Note: The decision of the Senate Student Academic Grievance Committee shall be final.

7. In all cases of alleged academic misconduct or academic grievance concerning the Department Chair, the Vice-President (Academic & Research) shall appoint an individual to act as Department Chair under these procedures.

- 2.1.5. The Director will advise the complainant on relevant support services available and explore options and potential routes for the complaint.
- 2.1.6. Third-party complaints, from witnesses to an event may be accepted at the discretion of the Director, but consideration will be given to the desires of the person(s) directly harmed by the incident.
- 2.1.7. Anonymous complaints will not be taken forward.
- 2.1.8. The Director, in consultation with the Complainant, will then decide on a path forward, which may include:

2.2. Interim Measures

In the event that the Director determines that there are concerns for the wellbeing of anyone involved in the process, non-punitive interim measures may be assigned. These measures include but are not limited to: no-contact orders, trespasses (from certain areas or all of campus), switching sections of a course, moving a residence student, etc. These measures do not presume guilt and exist only until the conclusion of the conduct process. Interim measures may be imposed immediately upon receipt of the complaint, or at any time during the investigation process.

- 2.3.6. If the respondent fails to cooperate with the investigation or to be reasonably available for a meeting, the Conduct Officer may proceed without the input of the respondent.

SECTION 3 - STU ATHLETICS CODE OF CONDUCT

1. INTRODUCTION

The Varsity Athletics program at St. Thomas University is an environment of coaches, student athletes and staff engaged in a competitive setting designed to offer another experience for students to grow and mature.

Varsity and club athletes are not only representatives of their sport, but are considered ambassadors of St. Thomas University and the Department of Athletics. In all three roles, they are expected to display exemplary conduct which reflects the privileged position that they occupy. The Athletics Code of Conduct (hereinafter “the Code”) has been implemented to facilitate a clear understanding regarding what is appropriate behaviour both on the field of play and as representatives of St. Thomas University and the Department of Athletics off the playing field.

2. PURPOSE

The purpose of this Code is to ensure consistency regarding the expected behaviour and actions of varsity and club athletes who are representing St. Thomas University both on and off the field of play. The Code sets out resolutions for inappropriate behaviour that are primarily corrective and educational, however punitive measures may be utilized if deemed appropriate by the administrators of the Code. The Code also sets the means of appeal for athletes.

3. SCOPE

The Code will apply to the conduct of varsity and club athletes while on St. Thomas University premises or off campus when acting as delegates or designated representatives of the University. The code will also apply to non-sanctioned off campus events where one or more team members or team alumni are associating, where the central purpose of the association is to promote or facilitate team cohesion, camaraderie, or fellowship. The Code will always apply when a varsity or club athlete is alleged to have engaged in misconduct while wearing the uniform and/or accoutrements of their team or sport, regardless of the location or time in which the problematic conduct is exhibited.

2. Hazing is prohibited at St. Thomas University. Hazing refers to any activity expected of someone joining a group (or to maintain full status in a group) that humiliates, degrades or risks emotional and/or physical harm, regardless of the person's willingness to participate. For example, hazing may occur when a group of students requires or pressures newcomers to undergo actions that tend to demean, embarrass, humiliate or otherwise compromise the emotional or physical well-being of the persons who perform them. Such behavior includes coerced consumption of alcohol.
