WHAT KIND OF STUDENT WILL YOU BE?

For more than 100 years, students have chosen St. Thomas for an experience they cannot find anywhere else in Canada. We are the only public university in the country wholly dedicated to undergraduate liberal arts.

EXCLUSIVELY LIBERAL ARTS

You will engage in a unique style of education that caters to who you are.

Our liberal arts approach means you will choose courses from different departments before narrowing your focus and won't be restricted to one field of study. This cross-disciplinary approach will provide you with a wide range of knowledge and a versatile skill set—advanced critical thinking, creative problem solving, research and analysis, and the ability to adapt to new ideas and technologies.

TIGHT-KNIT, SUPPORTIVE COMMUNITY

You will form meaningful connections with peers and faculty.

You will get to know fellow students and professors in small classes that allow for engaging dialogue and encourage collaborative learning. New faces soon become familiar through common courses and shared interests.

MEANING, PURPOSE, AND VALUE

You will grow in ways you never imagined.

With the support of professors, you will learn to explore controversial and competing ideas with informed judgement. You will be given opportunities to apply what you're learning through service learning, internships, and experiential learning—which will also help you cultivate connections within the community and build your professional network. You will graduate knowing how you want to put your degree to use helping others.

ONE DEGREE MORE THAN 30 MAJORS

DR. DANIEL O'BRIEN STUDY HALL

PERSONALIZE YOUR DEGREE BASED ON YOUR INTERESTS

MAJOR

Your degree will start to take shape once you declare your major at the end of your second year. Your major is the area you will focus on and the subject in which you will take the greatest number of courses. It is possible to major in more than one subject.

MINOR

If you have a secondary area of interest, you may consider a minor in the subject. A minor consists of several courses in a specific area, but not as many as a major.

HONOURS

If you're particularly interested in a field of study and are considering graduate school following your Bachelor of Arts, you will want to consider applying to an honours program in your upper years. Completing an honours program demands a greater number of courses in a subject—including advanced-level courses—and often a thesis is required.

More than half of our students graduate with more than one major.

ANTHROPOLOGY

HONOURS | MAJOR | MINOR

Anthropology is the study of human diversity, past and present, in all of its material, physical, social, and cultural forms. You live in a globalizing world where understanding human diversity is vital, as is your ability to interact with people from different cultures. You will get practical experience interacting with others in various social contexts, you will have the opportunity to excavate artifacts, and you will learn to analyze bones in our lab.

SAMPLE COURSES

Forensic Osteology and Archaeology
Anthropology of Sports
World Archaeology
Applied Forensic Anthropology
Anthropology of Gender

CATHOLIC STUDIES

MAJOR | MINOR

Catholic Studies aims to debate issues that engage Catholics and those interested in a serious study of Catholicism. Through its curriculum, scholarly activities, and community outreach, it contributes to a more informed understanding of Catholicism's contributions to intellectual, institutional, political, and cultural life. You will encounter individuals who have thought deeply about God, from Augustine to Aquinas, from Teresa of Avila to Edith Stein, and explore the ways in which their experiences have shaped their spiritual lives and their dialogue with culture.

SAMPLE COURSES

Literature and Catholicism I
Catholic Religious Leadership
Catholic Social Teaching and Issues

COMMUNICATIONS AND PUBLIC POLICY

MAJOR | MINOR

Communications and Public Policy explores the connection between communications and the creation and implementation of public policy. Every organization needs communications professionals to interact with the public, communicate effectively internally, and disseminate information through online channels, social media, and public or media relations. In your upper years, you will complete a communications internship and put your skills to work. STU offers the only major in Communications and Public Policy in Canada and is home to the Frank McKenna Centre for Communications and Public Policy.

Criminology is the study of crime, criminal behaviour, and the way in which society responds to those who have been identified as criminal or deviant. You will study theories of criminal behaviour and analyze the criminal justice system. The variety of courses offered reflect experienced faculty with specializations in youth rights and justice, criminal law and social justice, effective correctional treatments, theories of crime and punishment, crime and the media, and the history of crime and the law.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Criminal Behaviour
- Wrongful Conviction
- Youth Justice
- Victimology

In Economics, you will study how the economy works, where it came from, the challenges it creates for social equality and social justice, and how individuals engage to modify and change economic relations. You will develop knowledge of the various approaches to market economics, political economy, the international economy, and Canadian institutions and policy. You will also have the opportunity to major in Economics with a focus in Business.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Political Economy
- Community Economic Development
- Multinational Corporations and Trade
- Perspectives on Underdevelopment
- Economics of Poverty

Studying English goes beyond reading texts. You will learn to read the world we live in and understand the linguistic mechanisms that shape us. You will master critical reading, write about ideas and texts, and learn collaboratively through discussion and debate. The English Department offers a wide range of courses that will give you the opportunity to diversify your studies. You will also have the option to complete a concentration in Creative Writing or in Drama.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Shakespeare
- Creative Writing: Strategies
- Acting and Theatre Production
- History of Children's Literature
- Major Canadian Writers

This program will help you understand the social processes that promote the degradation of the Earth and our persistence in such destructive behaviour. As the issue of environmental deterioration originates with human behaviour, causes and solutions for them can be found in the social sciences and humanities. This program is for students who believe environmental change is possible and who are ready to take their learning into the community—as you study, you will get the chance to work with local organizations and agencies that address environmental problems.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Introduction to Environmental Problems
- Environmental Policy
- Ecological Literacy

Fine Arts offers courses in Music, Musical Theatre, Visual Arts and/or Film. You will develop your aesthetic literacy while cultivating a critical awareness of the aesthetic dimensions of everyday life and culture. You will examine Fine Arts through technical, social, performance, and historical perspectives. The program aims to broaden the understanding of art from a hands-on perspective and faculty, all professional and active artists, will meet you at your own stage of artistic growth.

SAMPLE COURSES

- The Guitar in Western Music
- Musical Theatre and Performance
- Drawing and Sketching

Gerontology at STU is one of only three comprehensive Canadian undergraduate programs in the field. Gerontology is the study of development and aging. You will examine aging from sociological, psychological, physical, spiritual, and philosophical perspectives, while exploring how society defines aging and how individuals understand their own later years.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Recreation, Leisure, and Aging
- Gender and Aging
- Counselling Older Adults
- Aging and Health

PROFESSOR PHILIP LEE

JOURNALISM, COMMUNICATIONS AND PUBLIC POLICY, AND GREAT BOOKS

AUTHOR OF FRANK: THE LIFE AND POLITICS OF FRANK MCKENNA

"It has been said that Journalism is a team sport, and anyone who has worked in a newsroom knows that to be true. What I love about STU is that my work with students is a team sport, played in small learning communities across campus. I don't see myself as a coach, but rather as a member of the team. We learn together, and we learn from each other. I look forward to every new season."

NATIVE STUDIES

HONOURS | MAJOR | MINOR

This program explores the historical, contemporary, and cultural issues of native people of North America. The courses take a historical-materialist approach to the study of issues in the history and relationship of First Nations and the immigrant society across Canada. Language courses in Mi'kmaq and Maliseet are also offered. STU was the first university in Canada to establish a Chair in Native Studies.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Native Literature
- Native Cultural Identity and Cultural Survival
- Native Public Health
- Native Resistance and Liberation

PHILOSOPHY

HONOURS | MAJOR | MINOR

"The unexamined life is not worth living." These words of Socrates, spoken 2,400 years ago, continue to inspire philosophers and students. Philosophy engages in the pursuit of the life worth living and the knowledge born of wonder about the human condition. Courses will introduce you to the historical development of philosophical questions and the various attempts to respond to them.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Current Issues in Ethics
- Philosophy of Human Rights
- Philosophy of Science
- Ethics and Sustainability
- Minds and Brains

POLITICAL SCIENCE

HONOURS | MAJOR | MINOR

Examine the ideas and institutions that govern society and investigate the nature of statecraft, citizenship, power, justice, community, law, and freedom. You will also explore the ways in which our own political order shapes our view of the world. Participate in the for-credit Model United Nations course and travel to events in Boston and New York City.

SAMPLE COURSES

PSYCHOLOGY

HONOURS | MAJOR | MINOR

Psychology is the study of people and how they interact and behave. It is a discipline that examines how we feel, perceive, think, learn, and remember. It examines what motivates us, and how we act in groups and societies. The research interests of the faculty vary from social psychology to biological psychology, childhood development, industrial and organizational psychology, and the psychology of men and women. Senior students have the opportunity to present their research at the Science Atlantic Conference.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Drugs and Behaviour
- Abnormal Child Psychology
- Personality Psychology
- Human Memory
- Psychology and Law

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

HONOURS | MAJOR | MINOR

Religious Studies explores the roles religion plays in contemporary society and around the world. It examines how the spiritual, ethical, and legal perspectives of religions shape politics, the arts, social movements, sexualities, the environment, and questions about the purpose of life. You will explore world religions, such as Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Native American Religions, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, and their rituals. Courses deal with recurring themes of human experience: the long search, evil and suffering, power and authority, sexuality and gender, death and after-death, among others.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Women and Religion
- Religion and Social Ethics
- Ritual Studies
- Psychology of Religion

ROMANCE LANGUAGES

Our world faces profound global challenges such as climate change, economic upheaval, and inequality, as well as shifting personal identities in a postmodern, postnational world. Sociology prepares you to understand how these forces shape perceptions of ourselves and our interactions with others. You will have the opportunity to work with local organizations through service-learning components of your coursework.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Inequality in Society
- Race and Ethnic Relations
- Sociology of the Family
- Women and Education
- Sociology of Law

STU is one of only two universities in Canada to offer a major in Science and Technology Studies. Science and technology are pervasive and powerful forces in our world today and come with a vast array of social, legal, and ethical dilemmas affecting both our daily lives and our world. Knowledge of what these forces are and how they influence society will help you become an engaged and informed citizen.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Science, Technology, and War
- Animals: Rights, Consciousness, and Experimentation
- Plagues and Peoples

Women's Studies and Gender Studies is an interdisciplinary field that concentrates on new scholarship and looks at the different perspectives of gender and sexuality in all aspects of life. The struggle for gender equality in politics, education, the family, the labour force, in literature, and in the media are key topics; in many courses, this involves cross-cultural studies of gender relations.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Introduction to Women's Studies
- Sociology of Gender
- Women and Gender in Modern Canada
- Gender Expression

POST-DEGREE PROGRAMS

After you complete your Bachelor of Arts degree at STU, you will have a firm foundation for post-degree and professional programs, including the Bachelor of Education and Bachelor of Social Work programs offered at STU.

BACHELOR OF EDUCATION

The Bachelor of Education is an 11-month program that offers concentrations in elementary (K-5), middle/secondary (6-12), and French second language. The program builds on previous undergraduate degrees and emphasizes cooperative learning and teamwork while providing practical teaching techniques.

Bachelor of Education students put theory into practice and gain valuable classroom experience through two field placements completed in different schools at different grade levels.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Classroom Management
- French Immersion Methods
- Science for Elementary Children
- Theatre in Education

- 📍 INVOLVES FIELD PLACEMENTS
- 🔧 POST-DEGREE PROGRAM

BACHELOR OF SOCIAL WORK

The Bachelor of Social Work emphasizes the importance of understanding the structural roots of social problems in Canadian society. The 15-month program—the only accredited English language program in New Brunswick—enables you to challenge structural injustices, learn critical theories to frame best practices, and understand how different forms of power and oppression operate in the world. Students complete a direct field placement and a social action field placement where they gain first-hand experience in practical social work.

THEORY IN PRACTICE

Learning shouldn't be confined to the classroom. Experiential learning opportunities allow you to complement what you learn in class with practical, real-world experience. Your student experience will be as diverse and dynamic as you want it to be.

WORK WITH PROFESSORS

Our small size and undergraduate focus mean you will have opportunities to work with professors on research projects. In some cases, you will even have the chance to be published in peer-reviewed journals.

MOOT COURT

STU's extracurricular Moot Court teams have placed FIRST at the Nelson Mandela World Human Rights Moot Court Competition in Geneva and the Osgoode Cup in Toronto. The Moot Court class provides academic credit and courtroom experience and competes in the American Moot Court Association. The program has earned 28 top oralist awards at regional events and six top speaker awards at nationals.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Participate as a delegate at the Harvard Model United Nations. With your class, you will travel to Boston to represent your assigned country's interests at the national event. Further your learning by helping plan and execute the John Peters Humphrey Model United Nations, which is hosted at STU every year for high school students.

HBX | X CORe | HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL HBX CORE PROGRAM

As the first Canadian partner of Harvard Business School's HBX CORe program, STU offers the opportunity to complete courses on the fundamentals of business to earn a Credential of Readiness.

TRAVEL-STUDY AND EXCHANGES

Spend a semester or two studying abroad at one of our partner universities on an international exchange. If you're looking for a shorter-term commitment, take one of our travel-study courses which are two to four weeks long and completed with classmates and a STU professor.

FREDERICTON SMALL TOWN CHARM WITH BIG CITY SPIRIT

Fredericton, the waterfront provincial capital, is the ideal student city. It's small enough to navigate easily—tree-lined streets, an extensive trail system, and accessible bus routes give you lots of options—but large enough to hold music and film festivals, theatre performances, art galleries, and many excellent options for dining, shopping, and physical fitness. There are also many opportunities for students to find part-time work and/or internships.

More than 100 charitable organizations offer volunteer opportunities

Embrace winter by skiing, skating, and snowshoeing the city

115 km of city-wide trails

STU tuition and fees include a city transit pass

WHAT TO DO IN FREDERICTON

CITY LIFE

- Grab a meal at one of the city's more than 150 restaurants.
- Meet a friend for coffee and a sweet treat—The Donut Bar and Chess Piece Patisserie are local favourites!
- See a play or musical performance at The Playhouse.
- Head downtown for dancing and live music.

FESTIVALS AND CULTURAL EVENTS

- Check out an exhibit at the Charlotte Street Art Centre or the Beaverbrook Art Gallery.
- Take in one of the 150 performances at the annual Harvest Jazz and Blues Festival.
- Embrace winter at Frostival—an event that brings out the best winter has to offer.

WEEKEND ADVENTURES

- Kick off your Saturday with a trip to the Boyce Farmers Market for fresh smoothies, local produce, crafts, and more.
- Meet friends for a drink at one of the many local craft breweries.
- Browse over 100 stores in the city—located uptown, downtown, and on the north side.
- Get active: hit the city-wide trail system, try one of the many yoga studios, or register for a recreational sports team.

TAKE IN THE SHIVERING SONGS MUSIC FESTIVAL WHICH HOSTS MANY SHOWS AROUND THE CITY DURING A WEEKEND IN JANUARY

VISIT ONE OF THE WEEKEND MARKETS FOR LOCALLY SOURCED PRODUCE, ART, FOOD, AND MUCH MORE

MEET FRIENDS AT ONE OF THE DOWNTOWN RESTAURANTS

WALK, BIKE, AND RUN ACROSS THE CITY WALKING BRIDGE WHICH CONNECTS THE NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES

PREPARED FOR YOUR FUTURE

TAKE IT FROM OUR ALUMNI

In a world defined by constant social and technological change, employers need graduates who possess communication skills, an ability to problem solve, adapt, and draw on a wide range of knowledge and experience.

A degree from STU is versatile and transferable—and so are the skills you'll develop through classes, research, experiential learning, and internships. This means when you graduate, there won't be any "closed doors" or career paths you can't pursue.
