Please Note: Because of the large number of people on campus for this event, we have developed an open schedule. If one location or event is particularly busy (e.g. lunch at the dining hall or admissions meetings), you may leave to take advantage of something else and return at a better time. This will ensure that the majority of your day is not spent waiting in lines. While you wait, you could try a sample class, go on a campus tour, or visit the Open House headquarters to ask questions.
