The Department of English, St. Thomas University, invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin July 1, 2023, pending budgetary approval.

St. Thomas University is an undergraduate, liberal arts institution in Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada with a full-time enrolment of 1,900. Its students graduate with Bachelor of Arts, Applied Arts, Education, and Social Work degrees. The faculty members are distinguished teachers, researchers and scholars, and the university holds two Canada Research Chairs.

The Department of English seeks candidates with expertise in Canadian Literature. In particular, we encourage candidates with specializations in literature of the Maritimes and/or Indigenous Literatures to apply. The ability to contribute to the department’s creative writing concentration would also be an asset. For more information about our program, please visit https://www.stu.ca/english/

A PhD in English or imminent completion is required. Completed applications must include a letter of application that describes the applicant’s teaching experience, scholarly interests and achievements, and potential contributions to the program as specified in the qualifications listed above. The application must also include a curriculum vitae and a teaching dossier that provides evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as sample course syllabi, teaching evaluations, and a statement of teaching philosophy. Applicants should also submit samples of scholarly work and provide the names of three referees. Applications should be addressed to Dr. Matte Robinson, Chair of English, and sent to englishhiring@stu.ca.

Closing Date: 16 September 2022, noon AST or when the position is filled. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that their completed applications are received by the closing date and time.

An equal opportunity employer, St. Thomas University is committed to employment equity for women, Aboriginal persons, members of visible minority groups, and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

Offers of employment will be conditional upon a candidate being able to adhere to current university COVID-19 policies.